

CIRCUS LANE, now called Hathorne Street, was named for the bordering fields that were rented out for circus performances. Our logo fondly gives a nod to the magnificent “Old Bet”, first elephant brought to the United States by Captain Jacob Crowninshield of Salem in April 1796 on the ship America.

CIRCUS LANE

Our shop will feature inspired and diverse collections of vintage & antique furniture, fashion, collectibles, architectural salvage, as well as jewelry, art, and handmade goods representative of long practiced New England traditions. Come discover a distinctive piece for your home, a perfect gift or that treasured white elephant you can't seem to leave behind.

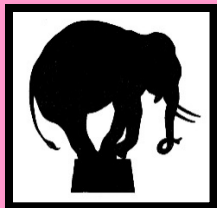

Located steps from the McIntire Historic District in the heart of Salem containing one of the most significant concentrations of eighteenth and nineteenth century buildings in the United States, CIRCUS LANE is an easy walk from the MBTA station with plenty of free parking. This quiet area of the city is home to a local diner, a couple of pizza shops, a new cider distillery and a specialty coffee shop, so add them into your plans for a quintessential New England shopping day with friends.
